

I like to eat corn on the cob. I wear my socks while eating corn on the cob. I tried to mix butter and salt for my corn but I made a huge mess! While I was eating I was also looking at the TV. I was watching Stuntboy. Stuntboy mixed up Zola's chairs and her homework. Stuntboy drank juice and spilt it on one of Zola's lawn chairs. Then Stuntboy bumped his head on the wall. He went outside and saw a full moon. Duh duh duh!!! When he went outside he saw a beautiful flower that was blooming. The next morning, the sun had burnt the flower. He decided to plant a cherry blossom tree to replace the flower that had bloomed. He wrote a book of poems about the cherry blossoms. The next morning, he took his book to the beach and a crab grabbed it. When he was there he saw Herbert Singletary the Worst. Duh duh duh!! The crab traded the book for a fish from Herbert. The crab started writing about the fish that he got. Then a mob of little kids swarmed him on the beach and buried him in sand! One of their parents came and gave him a piece of corn on the cob to eat.
